

2013 Summer Update And Special Offer

Five Rivers Lodge is looking forward to another great fishing year in southwest MT. With the reservoir at 90% and with spring runoff yet to come, the Beaverhead River will be its normal self, full of fish in the 16" to 25" range and a lot of them. As usual, the fish have very nasty dispositions. The snowpack is above 95% with a few more storms to come. This will give the Big Hole plenty of water for the season. With these great water conditions, it will make for happy fish and very satisfied fly fishers!!!

The Big Hole, Jefferson, and Beaverhead, along with the Ruby and Madison rivers, means you could fish for thirty days straight and never fish the same blue ribbon water twice. In our 26 years of operation at Five Rivers Lodge, whether it is a high water year or a low water year, at least one or two of our rivers has always been fishing good.
